Seaward Court

Seaward Court was built in 1986 by Seaward Retirement Homes and lies about 250 yards from the seafront off The Esplanade. Supermarkets, banks, cinema, station and bowling green are all easily accessible.

Location

Bognor Regis is a bustling resort with many amenities and numerous facilities with miles of sand and shingle beaches. It expanded considerably after the 2nd World War and today the nearby villages of Felpham and Aldwick have now really been absorbed as residential areas but each with their own distinct centres and shopping areas.

The Dome House is Bognor's most famous building and other prominent local landmarks include the Royal Norfolk Hotel and Hotham Park.

The town originated as a fishing village and rose to prominence in the late 18th century. It acquired the 'Regis' after a visit by George V in the 1920's.

The beaches and bird sanctuary at Pagham, once the fourth wealthiest parish in the Kingdom, are a short drive away. Goodwood and the South Downs are about a fifteen minute drive away. Other places of interest and walks are within easy reach. There are several golf courses nearby and a bowling club immediately opposite.

Further afield

Bognor Regis is about seven miles south east of Chichester. Littlehampton is about six miles and Arundel eight miles. Fast trains to London (Victoria) from Bognor take about an hour and fifty minutes and from Chichester take a little over an hour and a half.
